INTERNATIONAL BIMETALLISM.

The limits of space compelled the first pa of this article to be brought to a close before proceeding to consider the assertion that a bimetallic resolution would be at the mercy of any of the contracting Powers desiring to withdraw

Mr. Moffut, no doubt, had good authority for "The difficulties that lie in the way of a bimetallicunion are first the arrangement of such a league and afterwards the maintaining of it. Can it be expected that all nations will place such good faith in the integrity of their neighboars as to sign it? At any time, more especially in time of war, any single nation might and would very probably withdraw, if such withdrawal promised any advantage over her neighbours in obtaining supplies of gold or it might be of silver."(*) This view is taken by many advocates of the Theistrongest upholder of gold monometallism must admit that the progress here shown in one branch of industry alone, called into existence by the pressure of a debased currency, is infinitely more significant than the increase in the export market were bodily lifted up and then came of cotton manufactures from England of 15th per cent. in twenty years, as cited by Mr. Lord. What: however, is to be said about advocates capable of citing one instance of progress while omit ting mention of the other f The speeches delivered for and against the resolution at the meetings of the Manchester Chamber of Commerce were far too long for reproduction here. Sufficient to say that they were marked, on both sides, by considerable ability and grasp of the subject; and with the evident desire of the speakers to deal fairly with the problem before them. The bimetallists led the attack; the monometallists stood upon the defensive: relying upon a position regarded by themselves as unassailable. The majority of readers interested in the question have read the spacehes; and those who have not should lose no time in making themselves acquainted with the arguments. THE HONGKONG COLLEGE OF MEDICINE FOR CHINESE.

The ceremony which took place on Saturday in the City Hall is so far unique in the annals of the Colony. On that occasion two students of the Hongkong College of Medicine for Chinese received their diplomas as licentiates, the first diplomas ever granted in Hongkong. The College was established in 1887 on the most modest scale, without much foss and with even less expenditure, and since then the work has gone on slowly and unostentatiously, no attempt being made to force ou results. Commenting on the piratical attack on a convoy on the route to Ling-son, particulars of concluded an evening enjoyable to those who which we published in our Saturday's issue, the sation at Hanni, for it was said at the same time that the Chinese band in making the attack had in view a very large convoy of arms and ammunition which the military authorities were to send to Lang-son, and which for want of coolies was not on the way on the appointed day. Thus, at an interval of eight days of the abduction of M. Vezin, and, so to speak, almost on the same spot, a drama was enseted which surpassed the former in its horrors. But this is not the time to recall what has already passed and to comment on the sad predictions of which we should, in order to get out of it as soon as possible, face it coully and without the despairing bitterness which we have noticed everywhere for the hammad, H.K.R. Second Heat-1, 670 Gun- past few months. Let us see where we are, what necessary to attain our and. Since the organisation of the military stations Singh, A.A.; 2, 670 Gunner Gunda Singh, we have been told by the English press that the A A.; 3.506 Sepay Shor Muhammad, H.K.R. serious troubles which have taken place in Kwangsi have compelled the Chinese to levy numerous troops in order to combat the unsubjected hordes which occupy her frontiers. To the East, on the side of Kwang tung, whose Vicercy has always been hostile towards us. thanks to the imprudent withdrawal of troops. our efforts have not produced the expected results. owing to want of men to occupy methodically the woods and frontier of Dong-trien. Under these circumstances, therefore, from Luo-kai to Ling-son we are invaded by the hordes driven back by the Chinese, as also by the licensed regulars; from Lang-son to Mon-key we have to fight against pirates and spare troops which the Viceroy of Kwangtung encourages to cross into our territory. These it vaders gain upon the very feeble chain of our posts and reach the confines of the Delta, which they terrorise, reinforcing the bands long established in the place and profiting by their experience and

To these already formidable hordes is added the invasion of Chiques coolies so indiscriminately engaged at Lung-chow instead of employing Annamese labour, less productive it is true, but which afford us better security. Among these coolies recruited from the Chinese population how many there are who simply take employment in the workshops for the purpose of profitto prospect the region with the view of accom-

In this way, perhaps, more than three to four thousand Chinese have gone through the ordeal. whilst about a third or half of them only remain employed, though irregularly, in the work shops. We do not think it an exaggeration to say that these various events have brought into our territory during the past aix months more than four thousand Chinese who would not otherwise have lived there, and who are intent upon the same object.

can it be inferred from this situation that nothing could have induced the prevision a year ago that the bands which are disturbing the country at the present moment have only come here as a result of a bad administration of the military stations? We have the most sincere conviction that the civil administration; if it greater difficulties. The great mistake made is the experness with which the budget of military sorvices was sought to be reduced at the expense of no matter what escribe of men. Thanks to this weakness, the Government has are now more indispensable than ever for the andacity of the bands is redoubled and we pay be the slightest illusion; we should at all cost. garrison our frontiers, and for that purpose re-
